

ALL THE THRILLS OF FLYING FOR SIGHTSEERS AT RIO DE JANEIRO

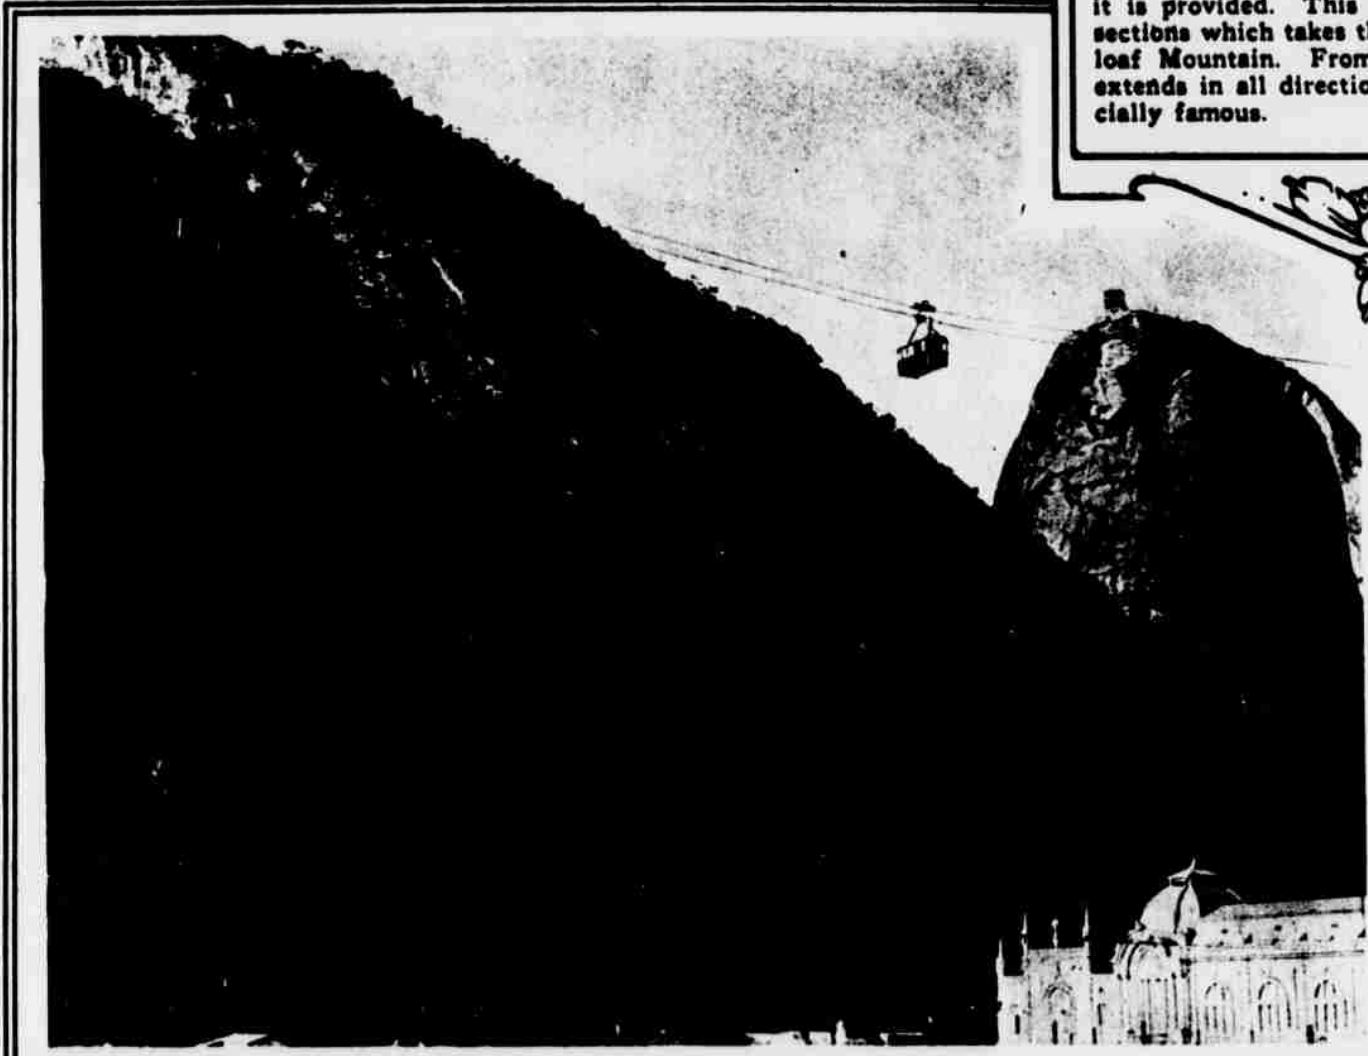

The car, a swinging basket, holds twenty passengers. The swaying of the cables gives the sensation of being in an airship.

Rio de Janeiro has one of the most beautiful harbors in the world, and a unique means of seeing it is provided. This is an aerial cableway in two sections which takes the visitor to the top of Sugarloaf Mountain. From the pinnacle a superb view extends in all directions. The sunset view is especially famous.

View of Rio from Sugarloaf Mountain. To the right is Corcovado, 3,000 feet high. Below, at the left, is the Exposition Building, and beyond that the Atlantic.

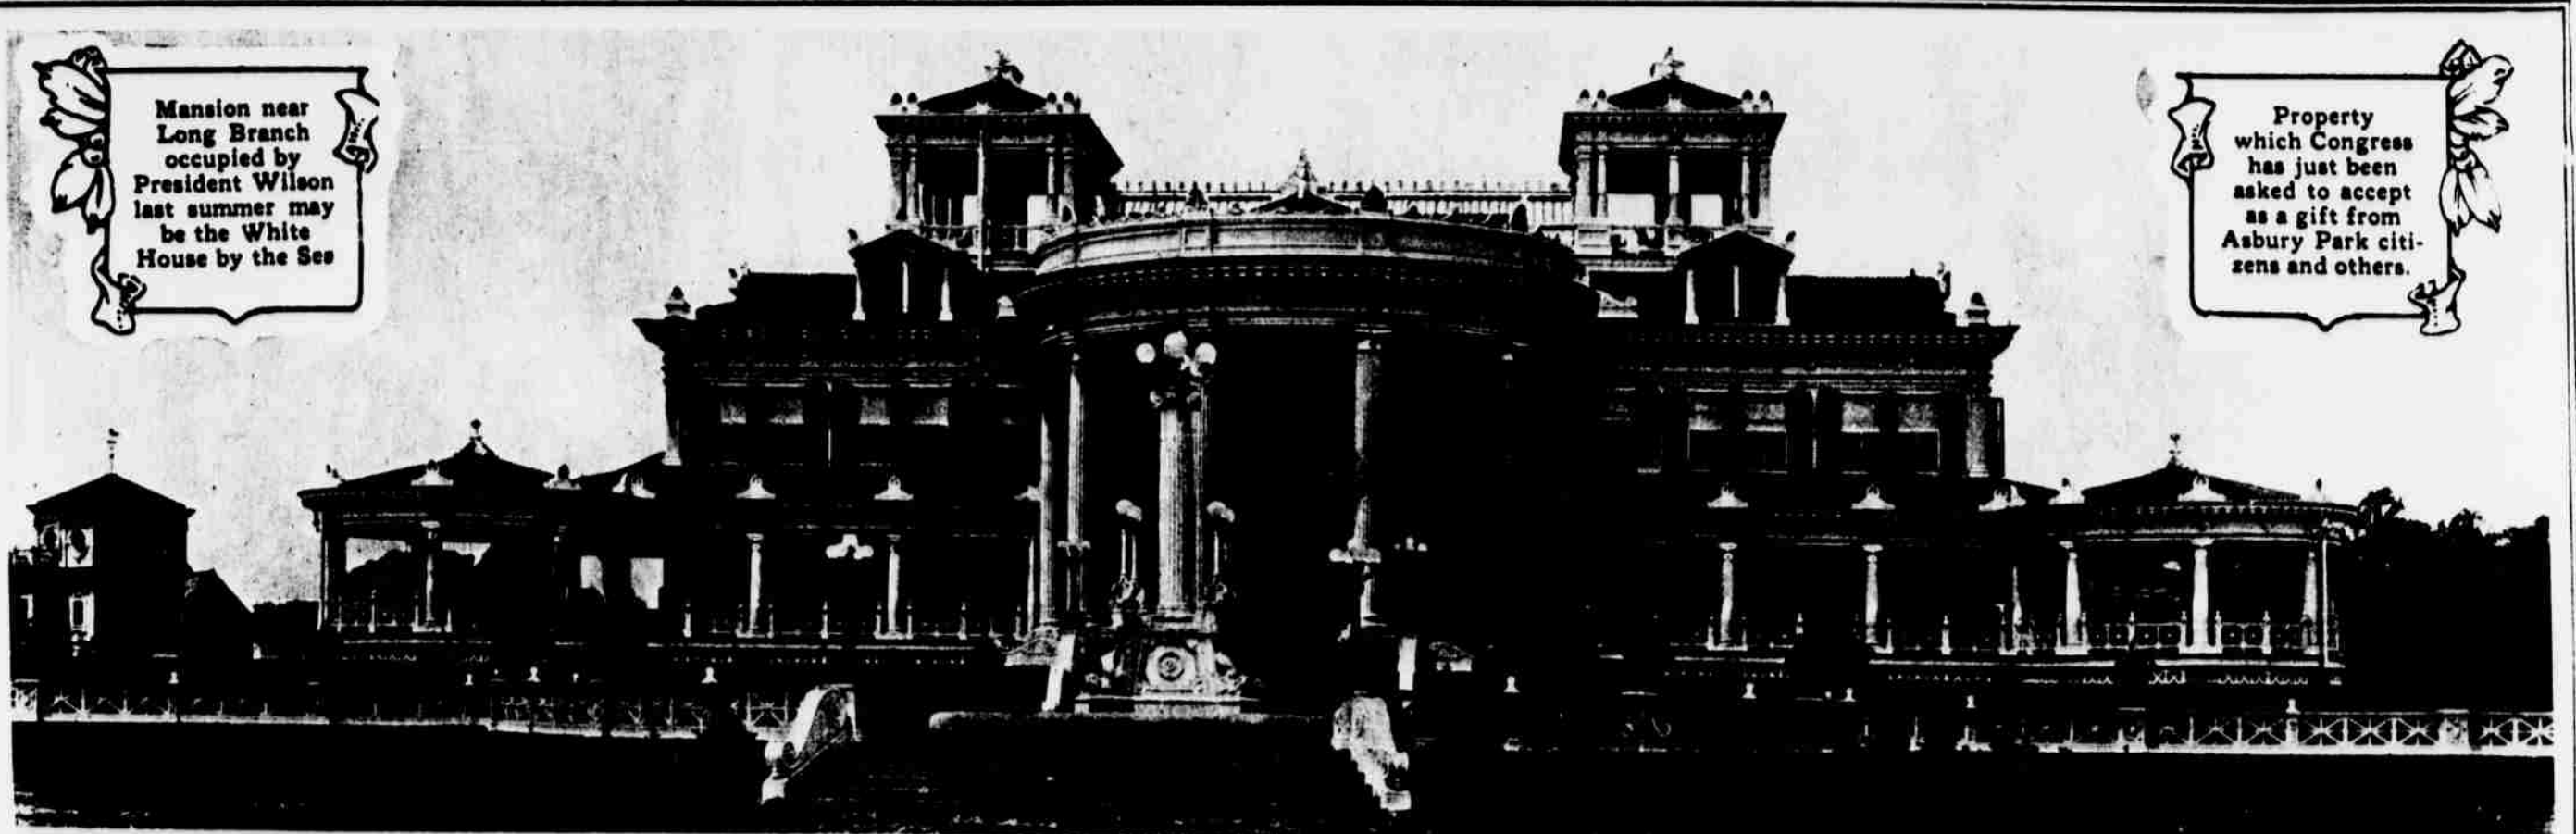

The first station is 800 feet high; the second, on Sugarloaf Mountain, is 1,600 feet high, and the gap between them is 3,000 feet.

On the way to the top of Sugarloaf, a towering cone of rock rising out of the sea. This is the most exciting part of the trip.

Photographs copyrighted by Newman Traveltalks and Brown & Dawson, New York.

SHADOW LAWN, OFFERED TO THE NATION AS A SUMMER HOME FOR THE PRESIDENTS

Mansion near Long Branch occupied by President Wilson last summer may be the White House by the Sea

Property which Congress has just been asked to accept as a gift from Asbury Park citizens and others.